"People are Messy!"

Unlocking Employees' Genius and Frustration

As a leadership consultant and Vistage Chair, Heatherann Antonacci works with business owners and CEOs to create solutions to common business challenges. By leveraging her 20+ years of executive leadership and providing a space of psychological distance and accountability, Heather is able to help business owners make better decisions that lead to better outcomes.

Attendees will benefit from these key take aways:

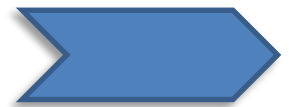

Identify Genius & Frustration

Learn about the six (6) activity types that once identified can help move you and your employees from activities that are frustrating and draining towards more productive and fulfilling work.

Job Craft for Performance

Evolve your team's cohesiveness and effectiveness by discovering and fostering individual members' natural gifts, making your organization healthier and, as a result, more productive.

Uncover Joy for Employees

Transform the way your employees view themselves and their jobs and begin to move from frustration and burnout towards more joy, dignity and success in their work and in their lives.
